

There are some things you shouldn't have to worry about.

Stainless steel is the best hygienic sink choice on the market. Our sinks are made of 304 stainless steel and are extremely durable. This non-porous material cleans well and resists bacteria.

The gauge of a sink refers to the sink's steel thickness. 18 gauge is very common in under-mount sinks and is equal to 1.2 mm thickness. 16 gauge is thicker at a 1.5 mm thickness. Drop-in sinks are usually in the 20-22 gauge range.

Our double bowl sinks go through a welding process that joins two smaller bowls together versus a one-piece 'stamp' design that actually stretches the steel thin. The benefit to this is that the weld process requires more stainless steel than a one-piece, which increases the thickness and quality of the sink not only in the rim, but throughout the entire sink.

Our sinks have a brush finished surface that reduces the appearance of scratches due to everyday use. To further prevent from scratching your sink, we recommend that you use our customized sink grids to protect the bowl(s).

In addition, our sinks are equipped with DuraBrace welded support brackets for the ultimate in sink strength. Top that off with SoundOff pads to absorb sound and LEVI Choice insulation to prevent condensation and you have a sink that not only looks good, but is good.

Contrary to belief, stainless steel does not rust. Rust is caused by iron deposits in your sink. To ensure that iron deposits are kept from the surface, you must clean your sink often and keep it cloth-dried. For best results, use products like Bar Keepers Friend, Flitz, and Gordon's Miracle Shine. Each will clean, protect and polish your sink for the ultimate showroom shine. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's cleaning instructions.

Do not use abrasive cleaners such as scrub pads or steel wool; or allow household agents, like bleach, to sit in your sink. Either will ruin your sink's finish.

Levi Sink Co offers a 5 year warranty against manufacturer's defect under normal use. We will replace the questionable sink, without charge, with that of an equal or lesser value sink. Owner must show proof of purchase and provide installer information. Sink must have been used and cleaned in a residential manner as directed and sink must not have been damaged due to neglect or misuse.

Levi Sink Co may or may not inspect the questionable sink before replacement is made. Improper installation, improper use, and improper maintenance excludes Levi Sink Co from liability. Transportation and labor costs, if any, are excluded from the warranty.
